This is one of the most noted horses in this section and the sire of many fine colts. Sept 22-2w

Get a Good Caning, Did Mr. Crutcher.

Some of the revenue men of the Eighth District have presented ex-Officer Deputy W. L. Crutcher with a $25 gold-headed cane, suitably engraved, as a token of their esteem. Mr. Crutcher's administration of his important position received just praise from his superiors, but nothing pleases him better than to show this gift from the "Revenue Officers."

A Grand Central Depot Here.

Mr. E. V. Elder has made two important improvements in his great store, which consist of four automatic package carriers and a two column advertisement in the CLIMAX. The latter appears elsewhere and reveals the fact that there is little or nothing on the face of the globe which cannot be found at Elder's Mammoth Emporium. He handles everything, all the time, at rock bottom prices. We have pleasure in introducing Mr. Elder to the 6,000 readers of the CLIMAX.

—Fat horses and mule colts wanted at Fox's stable, next Tuesday.

Residence Robbed.

"Gov." Powell's residence on the Tates Creek pike, near Main street, was broken into on Sunday afternoon and $250.00 in cash was stolen. Part of this was found in an adjacent yard and it is probable the balance will be recovered.

A Suggestion to Merchants.

A certain merchant at Paris thus advertises for wheat:

"As a substitute for money we will exchange you $1.00's worth of any kind of dry goods, or merchandise, in our business, for every bushel of wheat you will bring us."

The Turner-Sebastian Case.

Judge Saffley refused to grant a new trial for Tudor, sentenced for twenty-one years for complicity in the Turner-Sebastian killing at Lancaster. The attorney then prayed an appeal from the court of appeals, which was granted. The judgment was suspended until action by the latter court could be had. Turner is still in jail.

To The People.

I am a candidate for the office of County Attorney of Madison. I elect, my rule of conduct in the office shall be, "equal and exact justice to all people; to the rich and poor alike." It shall be my constant endeavor to secure a prudent and economical administration of the fiscal affairs of the county, and thus reduce the excessive rate of taxation. I solicit your aid. GRANT E. LILLY.

Lost Pocket Book and Twenty Dollars.

Dr. Paul Smith, who is here from Fayette, Mo., visiting his cousin, Mr. J. W. Smith, while out hunting with Messrs. Harvey and Walter Chennault last week, lost his pocket book containing twenty dollars. As they rode over the farm for several miles there is little hope of finding the purse, but next spring some plowman will strike a small Klondike when he least expects it.

Elder Matt Campbell Dead.

After a painful illness of gangrene Elder Matt Campbell, for nearly half a century pastor of the United Colored Baptist Church, died on Sunday night, in his 74th year. He was the most influential member of his race in Madison county, and was an upright citizen and christian. Funeral services today, conducted by Rev. T. H. Broadbent, and Elder Smother, of Versailles.

Declined With Thanks.

O. C. McWilliams, of White Station, received notice from Collier Yerkes last week that he had been assigned to a $1 a day job as collector of stores-keeper at Moore's distillery, near Lawrenceburg, but Mr. McWilliams' business at home would not permit of his leaving and he so notified Mr. Yerkes. He is a Gold Standard Democrat and served a similar position under Collector Rodas, at Silver Creek.

The Handsomest in Town.

The handsome exclusive millinery establishment in town is that which Miss Temple Oldham has opened at the store, west of Arner's jewelry store on Main. Its location and adaptability are unquestioned, whilst the stock of goods and the ability of the trimmers are unexcelled. Miss Oldham will have her millinery opening on Oct. 1-2, it will be something out of the ordinary as she has spent some time in the cities perfecting her knowledge of the art and laying in new goods.

A Self Supporting Cow.

Mr. B. F. Jacobs, of Irvine, is responsible for the following: A man well-known in judicial circles in Central Kentucky owned a cow which had contracted the bad habit of sucking her abundant flow of lactated milk. Noticing that she kept sleek and the owner contrived a yoke which allowed the cow to draw all the milk from one side, leaving the other for her rather numerous family. The cow kept in good condition while allowed this diet, and it is said never required anything else in the food line. This seems to be something of an endless chain affair.

An Entirely New Business For Richmond.

Mr. Thos. J. Smith, Jr. has opened a brokerage and insurance office in the suite of rooms in the Masonic Building over Covington & Mitchell, and is making a specialty of buying State, county and city claims, and also fire, life and accident insurance business. This is a new enterprise for Richmond, and will be thoroughly appreciated as soon as its merits are understood. Mr. Smith has the capital to make a success of the undertaking, and the patronage he has already received attests the need of just such an office in Richmond, not to mention the esteem and confidence of his friends.

A Bucket Shop Bust.

A Georgetown merchant and two Scott county farmers were in together to break a "bucket shop" branch of a Cincinnati concern in buying wheat on margins. The merchant put in $2,250 and cleared $25,000. The farmers were brothers, and one put in $300 and made $3,700. The other brother put up $200, and when he had made $500 wanted to draw out. His brother said to the merchant: "Oh, Tommie hasn't got any nerve, let's buy him out." They did, and when they went down to collect the thousands they had made, the bucket shop could not be found. He had skipped the country. Besides failing to get the $28,700 they won, they lost all they had put in—$2,750, besides the $500 they paid the brother that "didn't have any nerve."

Paul Burman Don't Like Frankfort.

The love of Richmond is a genuine quality in the heart of all her citizens has been attested times without number; the aged turn back in memory fond to the days in Old Madison as the happiest of their lives, while the middle aged and the youth are equally as devoted to the home of their birth and always place Richmond first and foremost. That this loyalty and love is instinctive, is shown by this letter from Master Paul Burman, seven-year old son of Judge A. R. Burman, of the Court of Appeals, who lately moved his family to Frankfort. It was written to his playmate, Preston Smith, son of Mr. J. W. Smith: FRANKFORT, KY., Sept. 18, 1897.

Der. Prentiss wrote at Frankfort, no I have not started yet to school no I have not straighten up yet. But will soon be through. I like Richmond better than Frankfort. I don't know any boys here except Ben and Walter Bennett.

PAUL BURMAN.

P. S. Tell Banks howdy.

Said of Mr. McKee's Marriage.

The Lexington Herald says of the McKee-McKenna nuptials last week, fully described in our last issue:

"Miss Louise McKenna, of Lexington, and Mr. Richard McKee, of Richmond were married yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's Church, Father Harry officiating. A wedding breakfast at the home of the bride, on Main and Jefferson streets, followed the ceremony at the church. A number of friends were present at the breakfast, who also enjoyed a peep at the handsome and numerous bridal presents. The bride and groom left yesterday evening for Nashville to attend the Exposition."

Madison Items in Nicholasville Democrat.

Mr. Wm. Stapp, of Madison county, visited Mr. Jackson Stapp Saturday and Sunday.

Miss W. D. Sanders, of Madison county, visited Mr. F. Taylor, of this place, Saturday and Sunday.

W. L. Sanders visited friends in Madison county last Sunday.

Mr. Jackson Stapp visited friends in Madison last week.

Several of our farmers are hauling lumber from Valley View reporting that they get a lower price of same quality of lumber there than they can in this county.

Two Madison county farmers passed through here Saturday with hemp for the Nicholasville market, which they disposed of at $3 and $3.25.

A Playmate of Lincoln.

The Hodgenville Herald says that in an humble log cabin, surrounded by the vine clad Muldraugh's hills, in a quiet and obscure part of LaRue county, lives the venerable playmate of Abraham Lincoln—Mr. Austin Gollaher—or "Uncle Austin," as his LaRue county friends delight in addressing him, whenever they meet at his home to talk over with him the scenes and incidents of his "simple childhood-life when he was a playmate of the lamented Lincoln. "Uncle Austin" is again a child and a very feeble one physically. The old gentleman is now rapidly rounding out his term of earthly existence. Ninety-one years of active life has well worn out the machinery that has so long been subject to his active mind, and he lies in bed a helpless man, to be waited on as he were an infant.

Kentucky Men Honored by the University of Va. Law Class.

A special from Charlottesville, Va., under date of Sept. 19, to Courier-Journal says:

"Yesterday was Kentucky Day at the University of Virginia. At a meeting of the law class the following officers were elected: President, C. W. Miller, of Irvine, Ky.; Vice-President, Brutus J. Clay, of Paris, Ky.; Treasurer, J. F. Minor, of Staunton, Va.; Historian, C. M. Owsley, of Lancaster, Ky.

Mr. Miller is a Bachelor of Arts of Centre College, and also of Yale University. He took a very high stand in his junior year, and was elected President by the unanimous vote of the law class. Mr. Clay is a Bachelor of Arts of Princeton University and a nephew of the Hon. C. M. Clay. Mr. Owsley is a Bachelor of Science of Centre College. He was Centre's representative in the Intercollegiate oratorical contest in 1894, and yesterday won the admiration and applause of all in his speech nominating Mr. Miller for the presidency.

Never before in the history of the University did so many honors in the law department go to students from one State. The Kentucky boys have taken a high stand at the university, and no citizen of the old Commonwealth need be ashamed of her representation here."
